*The symbolic form of language, art, or myth remains the same in its essence no matter what object it deals with in that each of these is a particular way of seeing. - Ernst Cassirer
We must question perspective itself.*

Lost Symbols brings together the work of contemporary artists who investigate, dissect, appropriate, and translate mystic occult ritual, alchemy, mythology, and symbolism. The artists represented have each uniquely contributed their own individual interpretations of the theme through a diversity of mediums and artistic methodologies including, but not limited to: film, painting, sculpture, drawing, printmaking, performance, and sound, in site-specific installations.

Programs include screenings and live performances involving ontology, fantasma, and phantasmagoria. Sound programs reference ritual, phenomenology and transcendence.
